

Beth Tfiloh Dahan Community School

August, 2011

Dear Parents,

It's almost time for school!

Well...almost almost.

I do hope that you and yours are making the most of what's left of summer vacation. The purpose of this short note is really just to introduce myself to you -- parents of 11th grade students.

Actually, many of your children have had me as a teacher earlier in their high school career. However, this year my role will be different. As their grade coordinator I will be monitoring their academic progress and be available to them (and to you) to discuss ways of developing such areas as time management, study habits, social skills and extra curricular activity. I will also be coordinating and implementing some of the co-curricular and extra-curricular programming as has been done in previous years. Most importantly, I am available to you and to your child as a resource to talk about school, social or family issues.

Although it is still early, I would encourage you to call me if you have any questions. My direct line is 410-413-2231 and I check my messages daily. Certainly, once school begins, please feel free to call with whatever concerns you may have.

Wishing you a pleasant remainder of the summer.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Binyomin Field
